

Reach beyond your core to do the digital you want to do

And deliver the experience customers demand — fast

Big banks have the reach, vast IT departments and budgets to roll out next-gen digital technologies, like open banking and on-demand services—which mean the difference between keeping and losing customers. Meanwhile, smaller players are still waiting on their core providers to add digital features to help them compete.

Q. What's a financial institution to do?

A. Partner with NCR to offer the best digital banking in the business—with top rated, open platform solutions that connect to any core.

Digital is #1 – it's the top way consumers interact with their primary financial institution

Over 2/3 of U.S. banking customers use digital banking as their primary banking channel

Top 3 Mobile banking is one of the top 3 most-used apps, second only to social media and weather apps

So it's not surprising that...

61% of Financial Institutions expect a revenue increase of 10% or more from digital investments.

75% of U.S. millennials used digital banking in 2018

80% of U.S. banking CEOs are increasing digital banking investments

87% of U.S. banks and credit unions have a formal, long-term plan for digital innovation.

61% want their financial institution to anticipate their financial needs the same way online retailers do

How NCR Digital Banking delivers

Customer experience counts – Unlike other providers, we invest heavily in user experience. And that's not just our competitive advantage—it's yours.

Open platform – Offer innovative, disruptive digital services using any of our 170+ third-party partners and our single source code.

Highest-rated app – Our apps are rated 4.7 or higher in the Apple App Store and Google Play. Why does this matter? 96% of users say they'd consider an app with a 4-star rating. But only 46% say the same for an app with 3 stars.

All sizes welcome – We work with financial brands big and small, offering digital retail and also business banking solutions to help you compete.

Core-agnostic – You don't have to wait for your core provider to roll out new capabilities. We can plug into any core and bring your new features to market fast.
